SHELLS CRASH IN FRONT OF AMERICAN CONSULATE-GENERAL

ADDITIONAL U. S. MARINES REACH SHANGHAI TODAY

Swell Land Forces of The Americans There To
Total of 1,300

CHINESE CLING TO THEIR MAIN LINES

Barrier on Yangtze Is Making Evacuation More Difficult

By JAMES A. MILLS
SHANGHAI, Sept. 9. (AP) —
Three one pound shells crashed directly in front of the American consulate-general this afternoon, seriously injuring three Chinese civilians and one British Sikh policeman.

The "pom-pom" shells were fired from Chinese guns just north of the International settlement border, apparently at four lowflying Japanese bombers.

Just previously one hundred additional American marines had been landed from Admiral Harry Yarnell's yacht Isabel after a hurried trip from Tsingtao. They swelled the United States land forces to 1,300 marines.

The marines were moved into place immediately behind the fortifications lining the northern border of the International settlement where the American forces guard the most hazardous section of the boundary.

Chinese troops clung tenaciously to their main lines on all fronts in the face of incessant and sustained attacks from the combined
Japanese army, airforce and navy.

Scurry To Refuge
American residents of Amoy, South China port of Fukien province, were forced to scurry underground today into bomb proof dugouts for protection against a shattering two hour raid of Japanese warplanes and warships.

American lives were gravely endangered and the United States warship Asheville was caught in the bombardment. Several bombs fell only a short distance from the Asheville and forced her officers and crew to hurry below decks for refuge from the hail of shrapnel.

Bombs and shells from the Japanese planes and ships rained on the army headquarters, police headquarters, the airfield and the old fort near the compound of the American Socony Vacuum Oil Co.

Two of the bombs crashed near the Socony plants. Shrapnel showered the compound where many of the American employees remained at their posts. Miraculously the flying chunks of metal failed to strike either the personnel or the tanks of inflammable gasoline and oil.

The American colony previously had prepared bomb proof shelters against such a Japanese attack on this populous city.

Scores of shells were fired from Japanese cruisers and seven bombs were counted being dropped by two seaplanes.

From Swatow, 100 miles south of here in Kwangtung province, the Chinese Central News agency reported two Japanese bombers were shot down and one damaged in a raid on that port.

New Blow By Chinese
Chinese struck a new blow at the Japanese navy today by blockading the upper reaches of the Yangtze river with a barrier just below Silver Island, some 30 miles east of Nanjing.

The barricade of obsolete steamers and Chinese junks loaded with sand and concrete effectively blocked the Japanese fleet from spreading its activities far up river from Shanghai. It meant that any considerable advance of the Japanese would place their land forces beyond the protecting range of their warships' guns.

The barrier also bottled up the United States fleet of river gun-boats on the Yangtze and made more difficult the evacuation of 1,200 war beleaguered refugees at Hankow, 550 miles up the Yangtze from Shanghai, as well as other Americans in various parts of the valley.

Nearly 500 American officers and sailors are aboard the six gun boats marooned up the river. They have food supplies for six months, however, and Admiral Yarnell felt no concern for their safety.

The main Japanese attack was launched in force against Kiangwan, the strategic "back door" to Shanghai, six miles north of the city and midway to Woosung. A Japanese spokesman said that the Far East

SEDALIANS CONFER ON HOSPITAL SITE

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 9. (AP) —
The Missouri State Cancer Commission probably will hold its next meeting in St. Louis, Dr. Ellis Fischell, chairman, said after Wednesday's organization session here.

Fourteen sites have been offered for the proposed state cancer hospital.

"In view of the many desirable locations, it is impossible to make a decision immediately," Dr. Fischell said, "but an early settlement would be most convenient."

The commission looked at sites offered here and met a delegation from Sedalia. Locations also have been offered in Mexico, Macon, St.
Louis, Booneville, Fulton, Louisiana,
Big River, Carthage, Lexington, Hermann and Eldorado Springs.

REPORT SMALL GROUP PLANS ON CONTROL IN U. S.

Director of German American Bund Terms It
"All a Joke"

CHICAGO, Sept. 9. —The Daily Times said in a copyright article today that "in uniforms strangely suggestive of those worn by Adolf Hitler's Nazi storm troops, a relatively small but rapidly growing army is preparing for the American counterpart of 'Der Tag' when it plans to seize control of the United States."

The newspaper said the article resulted from an "exhaustive investigation of American Nazis" made by three reporters and investigators, James J. Metcalfe, his brother, and William A. Mueller. Mueller wrote the article.

"Under the name of Oberwinder," the article said "the Metcalfe brothers months ago built themselves up as Nazi sympathizers and were accepted as members of the German-American Bund and its companion organization, the Deutscher Volksbund."

John Metcalfe established himself in the predominantly German Yorkville section of New York City and later acted as a propagandist for the German American Bund on a cross country tour.

"A month later John Metcalfe became a storm trooper in New York.
His brother, James, was accepted as a member of the alien army operated by the Deutscher Volksbund in Chicago."

"The Times investigators found the German brand of fascism spreading throughout the nation.
Leaders of the movement say they will seize control of the United States, but not until the 'Communist revolutions' start."

"The organization is an integral part of the Hitler movement in Germany. Leaders are in frequent communication with Berlin."

Every method of modern propaganda is used to win converts to the cause.

"Chief tenet of the German American Bund is an intense hatred of Jews and all things Jewish. Other anti-Semitic organizations are lining up with the Bund in what leaders plan will be a general Fascist merger."

SONG-FEST FOR TWO CIVIC CLUBS

Sixty-five Sedalia Rotarians and Kiwanians held a joint song-fest, led by Rotarian Fred Brink and Kiwanian J. T. Alexander.

Special numbers were sung by a group composed of the past presidents of the two clubs; quartet numbers by Dr. J. E. Cannaday, C.
L. Hanley, Herbert Schrankler and
C. F. Scotten; by the Rev. O. J.
Rumpf, Ernest Gillespie, Don Lamm and Reinhold Fischer; by Fred Brink, J. T. Alexander, W. W.
Storve and Dr. A. G. Hausam; and a piano duet by Mrs. Nellie Mon-egan and Mr. Alexander.

Club guests were: Harry E. Parsons, Jefferson City; Merrill Nevins, Hollywood, Calif.; C. F. Long-streth, special representative of the Missouri Pacific magazine, St.
Louis; Ralph Loomis, extension economist, Columbia; J. L. Allison,
New York City; Samuel Stone and William Milton.

FORMER SENATOR MCCAWLEY TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 9. —
(AP) —Former State Senator A. L.
McCawley of Carthage was out today for the Democratic nomination next year for representative in congress from the Seventh Missouri district, now represented by Dewey Short, the state's only Republican member. McCawley, who announced his candidacy here last night, served two terms in the senate and one term in the house here.

NAZI GERMANY TO FIGHT BITTERLY ON 'COMMUNISM'

Dr. Goebbels Hurls
Warning To Europe
and Democracies

DENY PROMISE TO MAKE NO ATTACKS

Dr. Rosenberg Ridicules Liberal Principles of Democratic States

NURNBERG, Sept. 9. —Nazi Germany's little propaganda minister, Paul Joseph Goebbels, declared before National Socialism's Congress today that a new Europe is being formed "for which we will fight to the last breath" against Communism.

Dr. Goebbels brought all his powers of invective into play—some of them against Americans and "deluded" democracies—a few hours after Germany had decided she could not sit down at a Mediterranean conference table with other powers so long as Soviet Russia, which has accused Fascist Italy of sinking her ships, would be there.

He warned Europe and the democracies that "Spain is the world's crossroads" and added:

"What happens today in Spain may repeat itself tomorrow in any country."

Then he screamed that the establishment of "a Communist power" in western Europe "cannot be tolerated."

"Some leading American Democratic political personalities," Goebbels shouted, sympathize with the Spanish government.

"If it is not scoundrelly and despicable," he cried, "to travel with this terrible world danger, then it is a case of crass stupidity to which one might apply the gospel prayer:—God, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Take Rap at Moscow
He spoke then of the democracies which, he said, persisted in "deluding themselves" that the Spanish insurgency was a bid for power by reactionary generals.

That idea, he said, is the "devil-ish" work of Moscow, and "nations which close their eyes to this menace will some day suffer a terrible awakening."

Goebbels spared his listeners none of the bloody details of what he said went on in government Spain. He told a lurid story of murder, rape, the despoiling of churches and the killing of hostages.

"All this might have happened with us except for Adolf Hitler."

"The churches ought to be everlastingly grateful to us. But, instead, they insist on trespassing on the domains of the state."

Having assailed Moscow, democracies and the churches, Goebbels then turned to his main theme, the Jews.

He said Bolshevism was merely a camouflage for "International Jewry."

And as a parting shot at the "Leftist" sympathies of "western liberalistic intellectualism," he cried:

"This is incomprehensible in its perverse aspect. One can only diagnose it as some sort of mental derangement."

Deny Attacks Be Spared

Earlier on the eve of a visit to the Nazi party congress by representatives of the world's three leading democracies, officials declined today that attacks on that form of government would be hushed to spare them embarrassment.

Democracy already had been linked with Bolshevism in a principal address. Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi ideological leader and recipient of one of Germany's new "Nobel" prizes, called Bolshevism "the illegitimate child" of democracy and said democracy was doomed.

The forthcoming visit by representatives of the United States, France and Great Britain constituted the first acceptance of invitations to the party rally by the larger democratic countries.

Prentiss B. Gilbert, U. S. charge d'affaires at the Berlin embassy, and Andre Francois-Poncet and Sir Neville Meyrick Henderson, the French and British ambassadors, were scheduled to leave Berlin for Nurnberg tonight.

There were reports some time ago that assurances had been given to the United States, France and Britain that no anti-democratic attacks would be made if their diplomatic representatives came to Nurnberg. This was denied flatly today.

Dr. Rosenberg ridiculed the heads of democratic states for their defense of liberal principles and attempts to prevent the world from splitting into Fascist and democratic camps, adding:

INSISTS CHILDREN USE SIDEWALKS

School children must stay on the sidewalks and keep out of streets going to and from school, Chief of Police John J. O'Brien said this morning, and parents are asked to cooperate with the officials of Sedalia in lecturing their children about safety.

Reports have been received at police headquarters of children insisting on walking in the streets and not giving way to the motoring public. Other reports are to the effect that children had been endeavoring to "thumb" their way to school and at times walking to the middle of the street to do so, while others have told the police several children have been seen "hopping" rides on rear bumpers of passenger cars and hanging on the rear of trucks.

For the past several years Sedalia has had a clear record of not having any serious accidents where a school child has been struck by a motor vehicle and Chief O'Brien said he desired to see it maintained.

Two persons on Wednesday failed to obey the school stop signs and this morning the city was $10 richer through both paying to the city $5 each.

J. L. Reine, arrested by Officer
Herman Fischer, motorcycle policeman, failed to make a stop at one of the school signs and his $5 cash bond was ordered forfeited in police court this morning by Judge Charles W. Bente.

Mrs. S. O. Galbraith failed to stop at a school stop sign and this morning Mr. Galbraith paid a $5 fine to Chief O'Brien after Judge Bente had passed the usual assessment on those violations. Mrs.
Galbraith was arrested by Officer Fischer.

Sidney Peltzman arrested by Officer Ed Young on a charge of blocking a sidewalk was fined $5
by Magistrate Bente after a brief hearing. He paid $2 and was given a stay on $3.

JOLT TO GERMANY IF DR. SCHACHT QUITS HIS POST

Considered Vital Part of Economic Structure of Country

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 9. —German business circles will sustain a hard jolt if it proves to be true that Dr.
Hjalmar Schacht, minister of economics and president of the Reichsbank, finally has resigned.

The retirement of the "financial wizard," as he is known in his country, has been rumored so many times that one would think all sensation must have been squeezed out of the event. Schacht is such a vital part of the economic structure of the fatherland, however, that his withdrawal from public life is a matter of the deepest concern.

Schacht looks quite a bit like Adolf Hitler. That might be an asset or a dangerous thing, depending on whether the Nazi chieftain is fond of his own image or gets tired of seeing a second hand version of himself knocking about.

At any event, while the minister may look like Hitler, the former has made the mistake of not thinking like the big boss in some vital respects. Even Schacht's greatest admirers long have forecast the severance of his ties with the Nazi administration.

RELEASE PROMISED CONDEMNED FLIER

By The Associated Press.
BURGOS, Spain, Sept. 9. —Harold Dahl, 28-year-old Champaign, Ill., captive airman who is under sentence of death, told the Associated Press today that insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco has promised his release.

The promise was made to Dahl's bride of less than a year, who is now living at Cannes, France, Dahl was informed.

The insurgent chieftain assured her that Dahl would be released as an exchange prisoner.

A personal letter from Mrs. Dahl direct to the generalissimo, enclosing her picture, did what official negotiations were not able to accomplish.

Dahl, who bailed out of his blazing Spanish government plane when it was shot down by insurgents July 12, was so worried about his fate that he refused to tell reporters his name until he learned of the plan for his freedom.

Franco wrote Mrs. Dahl that her husband was in good health in an insurgent prison and added that his life "never was in danger."

He suggested that Mrs. Dahl get in touch with the Spanish central government, and tell of Franco's promise to exchange the aviator.

The insurgent generalissimo agreed to send Dahl to France immediately in exchange for any insurgent aviator held prisoner by the government.

PENDERGAST TO SUPPORT CLARK

By The Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 9. —T. J.
Pendergast, Kansas City Democratic organization leader, announced today he will support Bennett Champ Clark for renomination and election as Missouri's senior senator next year.

"In my opinion Senator Clark has made a wonderful senator for the State of Missouri and will continue to make one," Pendergast said. "It is my belief the senator will be renominated and elected."

Pendergast's statement followed a visit of almost an hour by Senator Clark and Senator Harry S. Truman at the party leader's headquarters.

"I say now, not at Senator Clark's request, or because of any discussion on the part of any of us," Pendergast said, "that I will be for him for renomination and election. I had told him before that I would be for him."

Senator Clark said:
"I appreciate the statement of Mr. Pendergast. I already knew what his attitude was. We did not discuss my candidacy for re-election.
I simply dropped by for a friendly visit."

Senator Clark left this afternoon for Springfield where he will speak tonight at a barbecue sponsored by the veterans club of Greene county.

WOMAN LOSES LIFE IN A HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Sept. 9. —
(AP) —Mrs. Dean S. Merillatt, 20, Kansas City, Kas., was killed and three others were injured early today in an automobile accident on Highway 73 south of Leavenworth.
Their automobile overturned in a ditch. The party was returning from Leavenworth.

Injured were Dean S. Merillatt and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Merillatt, of Wellborn. After treatment at a Leavenworth hospital they returned to their homes.

SOME PHASES OF THIRD TERM TALK FOR PRESIDENT

Practical Politicians Not Astonished at Earliness of Conjecture

(Editor's Note: There is talk in Washington on the subject of a third term for President Roosevelt. The chief of the Washington Associated Press bureau tells of some phases of this talk.)

BY MILO THOMPSON
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. —Third term talk is now intriguing Washington politicians, commentators and students of government who think it extraordinary this talk should appear the first year of a president's second term.

Some explain this is because no president heretofore has had so overwhelming a representation of his party in congress, so great a concentration of power in his hands, so many innovations in governmental procedure, and so much popular support on a personal rather-than-party basis.

They infer it is high time to consider what shall happen to this inheritance of power and prestige.

But there are others who assert all this is fallacy added to fallacy.

In the first place, say these people, the third term talk is not appearing prematurely. They tell you it is natural, once a president is

GOVERNOR STARTS SIGNING UP ON $3,000,000 BONDS

Estimated Three Days Be Required For Task
at St. Louis

BE SENT TO THE CAPITAL FOR SEAL

Secretary of State and Auditor Are Also Required To Sign

By The Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9. —Gov. Lloyd
C. Stark arrived this afternoon from his interrupted eastern vacation to sign $3,000,000 in state building bonds for a syndicate of St.
Louis banks and investment firms.

The bonds had been shipped to Stark in Woods Hole, Mass., for his signature, but Attorney-General Roy McKittrick ruled the governor could not transact official business outside the state. He brought the securities back with him as baggage.

In a pasteboard box, about the size of a grocery's bread box, the bonds were carried by two red caps to an automobile waiting at the Twentieth street entrance to the union station. Five uniformed policemen and several detectives were on guard, although the bonds, without the governor's signature,
are valueless.

I. A. Long, spokesman for the St.
Louis group which purchased the bonds for a premium of $150,500
after they once had been sold privately to a Kansas City firm for $50,000 less, met the governor at the station. He accompanied Stark to a downtown bank, where the governor immediately began signing the bonds.

Uncertain on Time
Stark said he did not know how long it would take him to sign the bonds. It has been estimated three days would be required since there are 3,000 bonds of $1,000 denomination each.

They will require, in addition to the governor's signature, those of Secretary of State Dwight H.
Brown and State Auditor Forrest Smith, as well as the imprint of the state's great seal.

Brown has refused the governor's request that he bring the seal to St. Louis, so the bonds must be sent to Jefferson City and then returned here for delivery to the purchasers by Tuesday.

Stark declined to say where he would stop while in the city. He said he planned to be busy signing the bonds and did not want to be disturbed by callers.

The governor hoped to be in New York Monday to break ground for the Missouri building at the World's Fair to be held there in 1939. From New York, he planned to go to Atlantic City, N. J., for the annual governor's conference, beginning Tuesday.

WIDENING HUNT FOR MISSING CHILD

OAK GROVE, Ark., Sept. 9. — Wearied searchers, nearly 500 strong, resumed today a widening hunt through the Ozark wolf country north of here for Florence Jackson, four-year-old daughter of an Oklahoma coal miner, who became lost in the forest Monday afternoon.

While her distracted parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Arthur Jackson of Chelsea, Okla., kept constant vigil, Sheriff John Morris expressed confidence the missing child was still alive unharmed by the wild beasts which range the hills.

Rain deep ravines and tangled underbrush in the trackless forest combined to make the search difficult. Signal fires, which outposts kept blazing through the night, became centers for organized groups of searchers, summoned for miles along the Arkansas-Missouri border to join the hunt.

Find Child's Stockings
OAK GROVE, Ark., Sept. 9. —
(AP) —Densely wooded Ozark mountain country withheld all but one trace of four-year-old Florence Jackson, lost since Monday afternoon.
Searchers found the little girl's shoes and stockings.

The child, with her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Arthur Jackson of Chelsea, Okla., came here last week to visit friends. Monday afternoon the family started to walk through the woods to a large sawmill, but Florence tired and turned back to the

JINGO TALK

"We don't want to fight, but by Jingo if we do,
"We've got the ships, we've got the men, we've got the money, too."

Thus was born in 1878 from a music hall tune the word Jingo as applied to a bellicose person when the British dispatched a fleet to Turkish waters to oppose Russia's advance in the latter's war with Turkey.

What brings the word Jingo to mind is Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., safely at home and crashing the front pages of newspapers with criticism of President Roosevelt's policy in the Oriental war mess. All the protection we had was a flag stretched across the smokestack of our boat moving down the Wangpoo River, and a few marines," she complains. This was too much for her superiority complex. What she wanted was for the battleship Augusta to pull up anchor and convey the boat load of 410 Americans down the river, guns uncovered and ready for action.

Wouldn't that have been a sight to scare the Chinese or Japanese airmen. With all that fanfare, what a target that little ship load of refugees would have been. If those airmen can drop bombs on the Augusta with impunity what would have stopped them from making the refugee boat an accidental target with the huge battleship marking the spot.

The point is, the whole boat load got through safely and we'll surmise that while "the bombs and shells fell like hailstones" the good old American flag stretched across the smokestack and the few marines on board thrilled the hearts of those refugees with a feeling of security—even Mrs. Roosevelt's.

Over there Mrs. Roosevelt was just another refugee and did not receive the accustomed individual attention she probably desired. And that hurt like the very deuce. Safe on America's shore her emotional frustration must find an outlet, so her first words are a jingo blast at the President and his policy. She wants to know what those battleships are for if not to uncover their guns and parade about in the Wangpoo like a bully with a chip on his shoulder.

It is just such talk as this that stirs the populace to take sides and become involved in a senseless slaughter of its manhood. Not to mention the World War dead, we still have in the United States and Sedalia, too, enough living examples of war's horror to cause any sane person to have a care about Jingo talk.

Perhaps Mrs. Roosevelt doesn't agree with the maneuvers of our battleships in Oriental waters, but we'll hazard a guess that the admiral and the President do. Let's leave it up to them.

We choose poverty when we choose our jobs. The smartest man couldn't get rich making horse shoes.

If the Yanks continue to increase their lead the sports writers soon will be computing the distance between first and second place in the American League in terms of light years.

Investigating a crash in the kitchen of her bungalow, a Los Angeles woman discovered a suicide had jumped from an airplane, penetrated the roof and landed on the kitchen floor. What with earthquakes and such unexpected callers, Los Angeles women are cultivating the acme of nonchalance.

CLEAN MOUTHS

Sedalia parents might as well tell their children that there are other reasons for brushing their teeth than merely having the teeth themselves clean and shining. A dentist is aroused by the unusual number of infantile paralysis cases in some areas this summer to write the following:

"The number of bacteria or other organisms in a mouth is almost in proportion to decay. An immune mouth might show a count of 10,000,000, while a dirty mouth with decayed teeth might have 500,000,000. We should therefore be careful to keep our mouths as clean as possible.

"It is well known that unclean mouths and decayed, abscessing teeth frequently harbor the germs of infectious diseases such as chicken pox, scarlet fever and measles. Why not others? Doctors frequently warn us how sneezing spreads infection. Everyone having a mouth in an unhealthy condition is a source of contagion to the community as well as danger to himself."

FAMILY WAGES

Business Week has compiled an interesting survey showing what employed wage earners' families earn and how they spend it.

Highest wage is on the Pacific Coast, where data compiled for Seattle shows that the chief wage earner of the average family takes in $1,508 a year. The average number of workers per family is 1.18, and gross income is $1,604.

A greater gross income is shown for New York—$1,734—but this is due to a larger average number of workers per family, 1.62, and the chief wage earner receives but $1,357.

Lowest gross income is among Birmingham Negroes, $806 per year.

Major expenditure is food, averaging around 35 per cent, with housing second.

It may be significant and then again it may not but no nation, in selecting its national emblem, has ever picked the love bird.

We'll bet some of those auto headlight manufacturers are jealous now that astronomers have discovered a new star 500,000,000 times brighter than the sun.

This must be a pretty good country after all. We haven't had a civil war for 73 years, an invasion for 123 years and we never have had a purge.

Bicycles are increasing rapidly in popularity throughout the United States. The reason probably is due to the fact that so many of us Americans get a thrill out of going around corners on two wheels.

August Mader, an Austrian, a cabled story says, has started a three-year hike to Tokyo, Japan, to attend the Olympic games there in 1940. The story didn't reveal whether or not he carried a gas mask and a flag of neutrality.

WASHINGTON—The President's last year. These figures are approximately in line with Draper's prediction.

According to Mrs. Roosevelt, refurnishing the White House, or even making very small changes in its furniture, is "not a thing which you can go about lightly."

Explaining to friends not long ago how she was getting four new chairs for the Red Room, Mrs. Roosevelt said:

"You see, anything which is to remain definitely in the White House must have the approval not only of the Fine Arts Commission, but also must be bolstered by an act of Congress."

One-Minute Test

1. What kind of fur is Hudson Seal?
2. Who is the Japanese envoy to the United States?
3. How many electoral votes has the state of New York?

Today's Horoscope

Persons whose birthday occurs today are apt to be determined and finally defeat the object they have in view.

Hints on Etiquette

The keynote of all good correspondence is simplicity; avoid flowery language as meticulously as flourishes in handwriting.

One-Minute Test Answers

1. Hudson seal is not the name of any species of animal. It is merely a trade name for common muskrat fur dressed and dyed to resemble seal.
2. Hiroshi Satto.
3. Forty-seven.

The American Constitution

Questions and Answers Pertaining to the Constitution From "The Story of the Constitution" by the U. S. Sesqui-centennial Commission, Representative Sol Bloom of New York, Director General

QUESTIONS

1. Were there any members of the constitutional convention who never attended any of its meetings?
2. What did Thomas Jefferson have to do with framing the constitution?

ANSWERS

1. There were 39 who were never present. Some of these declined, others merely neglected the duty.
2. Although absent from the constitutional convention and during the period of ratification, Jefferson rendered no inconsiderable service to the cause of constitutional government, for it was partly through his insistence that the Bill of Rights, consisting of the first 10 amendments, was adopted later. Neither Jefferson nor other "radicals" was present at the convention—Jefferson at the time being U. S. minister to France.

CAUSES OF STRAIN

ON THE EYES

Good vision does not necessarily mean healthy eyes. This is true in childhood. In middle age the converse may be said to be true—poor vision, at least for reading, goes with perfectly normal eyes.

The child in school is asked to read a chart and he reads the 20-20 line, which is the accepted standard for normal vision. Yet he may have to strain his eyes to achieve this normal vision. Sooner or later with the continual strain of achieving normal vision in school he will begin to have symptoms—headaches, or nervousness, or inattention.

The three optical faults which induce eyestrain are: far-sightedness, near sightedness and astigmatism.

Far-sightedness does not mean good vision in the distance. The eyes have to strain even when looking at a distance. Normal eyes focus distant objects with complete relaxation. Only when doing close work do they have to focus; but focusing in a normal eye is not the same as strain.

Result Is Strain

In far-sighted eyes the image falls too far back even when the eyes are looking at a distance, and the retina does not receive a clear-cut image until the focusing muscle starts working and brings the image upon the retina. That means the focusing muscle never gets a rest.

This results in constant strain and leads to nervous symptoms of that strain. Such a child was one aged eight who at home was obedient, irritable and nervous. At school he was indifferent to his work, backward, and his teacher called him lazy. No one for a while suspected his eyes might be the cause of the trouble, because he could always read the smallest line on the text chart, until finally one doctor suggested a "thorough" examination. This means a complete check of the physical health of the eyes and a determination of the total optical error.

Strain on Muscle

These far-sighted children have just such a strain upon the focusing muscle that it is hypertrophied and much stronger than normal, so it is generally agreed among competent oculists that it must be put at rest with medicine before the exact amount of optical error can be measured.

One of the best text books on the eye says, "In every case of hyperopia (far-sightedness) occurring in children and young adults, the accommodation should be paralyzed and the total error estimated so as to serve as a prescription for glasses."

When this was done to the child whose case we have recounted, and proper glasses prescribed for him, his improvement was remarkable. He wasn't really lazy or indifferent, but you can't expect a young fellow to be full of pep when some of his muscles are always on a strain.

Working Charm to Death

YOU KNOW them—those charming people. Those ladies who have but to smile to get what they want. Those lads who have "fine personalities" and get things easily too.

I'm leary of them. I may like them, but I'm suspicious of them. I steel myself against them, put on battle armor and try to be tough when they come my way. They sell me things. They convince me of things I do not wish to believe. They twist me 'round their little fingers—and I know they do—and I don't like it—and I hate them while I love them.

They've got that fatal gift, those lads and lassies. The grace of the thoroughbred horse, the sheen of the hummingbird, the disarming softness of the gentle fawn—all things lovely and persuasive are in them and they are dangerous. They can lead their fellows up or they can lead them down, lead them straight along the road or off the path into sloughs or swamps. So I'm scared of them.

And why should I or anybody else be afraid of "charm" or a "fine personality"? Perhaps it's our grapes. Perhaps it's because I've never in all my life been able to get anybody to do anything he didn't want to do—and make him like it. But I think I fear those charming, pleasant, decorative and delightful people because they get things too easily. They get them

What They Say

H. C. O'Neill (V. F. W. Service Officer)—Labor Day I stood on the corner of Fourth St. and Ohio Ave., as the parade passed. I noticed when the United States Flag carried by a workman in overalls, passed, not a man or woman saluted or removed his hat or came to attention. I am now wondering what this means. Is it a downright disregard for patriotism, thoughtlessness, an utter lack of respect due to home training, or a laxness in the teachings of our school? I would like to have an answer to this one.

without working for them. They've always gotten them that way, from the time when they were little boys and girls who grinned or smiled and won all hearts and were showered with praise and gifts—and never needed to develop character and earn what they enjoyed.

And that sort of childhood can be bad for people. It weakens a part of them that should be sturdy and rugged. It makes nice parasites of them, makes bunco-men of them, and they can't help it and they don't know it. Eventually they work their charm and personality to death; they treat the world as their oyster; they think others exist only to serve them.

They are not all like that. I know it as well as you do. But some of them are, and that's a pity. Because they are tempted to use their charm for trivial and selfish ends—and what's worse, they get by with it!

DINNER STORIES

Disproving a Rumor!

"Tommy, I heard that instead of going to Sunday school this morning, you played baseball."
"That isn't true—and I've got a string of fish to prove it."

Following Instructions!

Little Peter, aged five, had been receiving a lesson on politeness. "And, remember," said his father, "when you are in a street car and a lady comes in, and can't get a seat, you must jump up and say, 'Take my seat!'"

A few days later they were in a street car, and as it was very crowded, Peter sat on his father's knee. People were filling in, and when a pretty young lady approached, jumped Peter.

"Take my seat!" he said.

CHAPTER 45

MARCIA read the newspapers and sighed. Unconsciously she blamed Walt for the collapse of the Acme company, for Abe had followed his lead in looking for "easy money". Never too scrupulous, he had needed just the encouragement Walt so slyly gave.

She hated to see the company she had conscientiously helped to build crumble into obscurity because of man's greed.

Suddenly, she thought of Sandy's rough-and-tumble fight in that office, a fight which should have served as a warning for both Abe and Walt. A half smile crossed her face as she remembered Sandy's pride in administering that beating, then abruptly it faded away as she thought of Sandy himself. She had not heard from him in a month, except for the two little cards found in her mail box when she had returned from Santa Cruz. She thrust the paper from her viciously as she thought of Paula.

Sandy, who had hesitated to intrude upon Marcia during the hectic days a month ago when her success first became apparent, had called twice at her apartment while she was in the mountains and had been informed she had gone away for a rest. "At Garrett Warren's cousin's home." Dejectedly, she had thought of Sandy himself. She had not heard from him in a month, except for the two little cards found in her mail box when she had returned from Santa Cruz. She thrust the paper from her viciously as she thought of Paula.

She had been home two weeks and sent him no word, so Sandy reasoned she either was too engrossed in her own success, or her love for him had dimmed. He was so concerned with this worry that he paid scant attention to the newspaper screamers about Acme.

"Old Abe probably is feeling around already for some other scheme or deal to make quick money," he told Mike Borst who happened to be lounging in the office reading another newspaper account. Then he laughed aloud as another thought struck him. "I'll bet the old boy is out right now trying to sell what accounts he has left. Too bad I don't stand better in his good graces, I might have a chance to buy in some new business cheap!"

"Failing that, how would you like to buy an almost new suit, also cheap?" Mike questioned him. "I seem to be at dead ends just at this moment; nobody wants a publicity man, and the radio stations no longer crave to hear my 'mellow voice'."

"Maybe they don't like that whiskey tenor, young fella," Sandy said thoughtfully. For a long time he had wondered if he could find an opportunity to help Mike, for he had heard rumors along the row that the man was letting drink interfere with his work.

"Aw, I don't drink so much," Mike was embarrassed, then his humor got the better of him. "I can't afford to!"

"But the trouble with you, Mike, you have too many bad friends who are willing to set you up to a drink on any excuse. Why don't you cut it out?" he asked seriously.

ly, then seeing the growing resentment in Mike's eyes he went on quickly. "Oh, I know. You need it to relax your nerves after working at top speed in this profession. That old alibi is no good any more, Mike. You aren't working so hard and there's no point in trying to drown your sorrows or pick yourself in brine."

"What do you want me to do, make a bid to Abe and set myself off in the advertising business? If I had any money, I wouldn't give it to that lemon squeezer!" Mike was glad to bring the subject back to an impersonal point. But Sandy was not so easily deterred.

"Forget Abe. He's left the field open to decent advertising men by folding up. I only hope a few of the other unethical birds follow suit. But can you see any encouragement for yourself in any actions?"

"Nope. Or, say—do you want me to be an ambulance chaser?" "Why not? Acme has lost about a dozen accounts, some of them pretty good ones. Why don't you try to straddle one of your hair and get after them? There are a couple I think you're particularly qualified to land. That is if you buck up and stay bucked."

"Boy, I'd be Sitting Buck himself if I could put my hands on some honest cash. Do you really think I've got a chance?" Unconsciously Mike straightened up, squared his shoulders and began to face the future with something like interest. He had hit a stretch of bad luck and, as Sandy accused, too many bad friends had helped him while away the time.

Sandy drew a sigh of relief when he saw Mike was not going to resent his interference. He wanted to help the likeable chap.

"It's a setup," he said to give him further confidence. "You should go first to McDonald over at the Bancroft Hotel. His problem is mostly publicity, and he goes for it in a big way. 'Right down my alley!' boasted Mike, then turned in perplexity to Sandy. "But you, why don't you have a try for it? Doesn't look to me as if another job or two would be amiss around here."

Sandy shook his head. "Two reasons. First, I'm working on a competitive account; second, I'm not so well equipped on the radio end of it. And that's in spite of the little initiation I got when I tried to pinch hit for you!" Mike, too, smiled wryly when he remembered the disastrous results of that brief experience over the air.

"Well, I'm glad that it's ethics and not pity that made you turn the job over to me," he said, cherishing his self-respect. I might stand for one, but the other—" "Forget it," Sandy said gruffly.

"Let's call McDonald and find out if he'll see you. He's a pretty good friend of mine." And Sandy reached a long arm after the telephone. A brief conversation and he turned to Mike. "He's going to be at the Trocadero tonight with a party of friends. Asked me to bring you in, he's got something in mind. Looks like it's hot, or he wouldn't want to see you right away."

Mike grasped his hand firmly and with an embarrassed grin picked up his hat and started to leave. "Well, I'll go home and coax the moths out of my outer suit. D'you think they'd like to gnaw holes in doughnuts for a change?" He had closed the door behind him, when he popped his head back in again. "I'll meet you at the Troc about 10!"

Sandy breathed a sigh of relief. If he could only straighten out his own problems in the same easy fashion! But women and love were ticklish subjects. "There's only one thing I'm sure of, and that is that I love Marcia," he thought miserably. "Once I was jealous of her ambitions and of any man who dared look at her; now I'm letting her succeed between us. Maybe I've had the wrong bunch, but I don't want her fill of it. Maybe I should have another try to win her over."

Fearing to make even one more mistake in this peculiar comedy of love errors, he paced the floor nervously. Looking out over the city that was still sweltering in the late afternoon sun, he decided once more to discuss the future with Marcia. Calling the Warren phone number, he was informed, "Miss Madden is working at home; we are not permitted to give her telephone number." Sandy banged up the receiver. Did they think they could keep him from Marcia that easily? Quickly he called the familiar number to her apartment, and a pleased smile quirked his lips as he heard her voice.

DENIES ANY PART IN WINE THROWING

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(P)—John Roosevelt, youngest son of the president, returned Wednesday from a two months' tour of Europe, repeated his denial that he had sprayed champagne on the mayor of Cannes, France, and set out immediately for Hyde Park, explaining:

"Right now my funds are a bit low. Will I be glad to see the old man!"

He was not sure, though, what kind of reception he would get as a result of stories about the champagne spraying.

The lanky Harvard senior received a score of reporters on the Sun deck of the French liner Paris and discussed the reported Cannes incident on the way up the bay.

"It must have been a case of mistaken identity," he said. "As a matter of fact, I hear the mayor of Cannes is a swell guy."

He didn't say what his father's reaction was, but said "he heard about this champagne story before either Ambassador Bullitt or I did."

Young Roosevelt said he had enjoyed his tour tremendously and that he was very much impressed by the force of Mussolini during his brief talk in Rome.

"Have you fallen in love?" a woman reporter asked.

"It's something novel as far as I'm concerned," he replied.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, hiccups, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Thomas Whaley Wed At Mexico Monday Morning

Miss Mignon Maurice Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Williams, Mexico, Mo., and Thomas Henry Whaley, Mexico, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Whaley of Sedalia, were married at 9 o'clock Monday morning at St. Brendan's parish house, by the Rev. Father P. D. Gavan, pastor of St. Brendan's Catholic church, Mexico.

The ceremony was attended by parents of the couple and the bride's brother, Louis Williams of Mexico and Miss Leona Roe and Jack McCloskey of St. Louis, members of the bridal party. The bride wore a smart Autumn costume of navy blue velvet, carried out in the two-piece dress, fashioned with flared skirt. Velvet of a lighter blue laced the blouse from the front neckline and was used in tiny bows that trimmed the short puffed sleeves. Her hat of the same navy blue material and shade, was an off-the-face model, with a short black veil, while her purse and shoes were of blue suede. She wore a shoulder corsage made of baby's breath and Briarcliff roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were hosts after the wedding, at a breakfast at their home, 823 West Love street, Mexico, for the bridal group and those attending the wedding. Later Mr. and Mrs. Whaley left for a trip to Kansas City and El Paso, Texas. Upon their return they will reside at the Alamo Apartments.

A three tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bridal couple and flanked by pink and green tapers in crystal holders, decorated the table from which the wedding breakfast was served.

Mrs. Williams, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue Fall costume at the ceremony, while the bridegroom's mother, was dressed in black and white crepe.

A quiet home wedding was solemnized September 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Nichols, 1421 South Carr avenue, when Mrs. Hattie Collins of Topeka, Kansas became the bride of A. H. Holloway of Warsaw. Mr. Holloway is a brother of Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Collins is a sister of Mr. Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Holloway were both born in Benton County, Mo., but received most of their education in Sedalia schools. The former is a graduate of Central Business College, has served as treasurer of Benton County, also postmaster at Warsaw, and is well and favorably known in adjoining counties.

The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. E. F. Dillon, of the Warsaw M. E. church.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holloway and Mrs. Ruth

Berry of Warsaw, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Nichols, Sedalia. After a trip through the Ozarks the couple will be at home to their friends at Mr. Holloway's home in Warsaw.

There were five tables of bridge players at the Country club tournament Wednesday morning. Mrs. Lawrence Barnett and Mrs. Jack McLaughlin were high among the north and south players and Mrs. Harvey Brimmer and Mrs. Phil Russell second.

Miss Kathryn Courtney and Mrs. Henry R. Harris were first of the east and west players and Mrs. Joe Quinn and Mrs. W. P. Stanley second.

Circle number seven of the W. M. S. of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. William Kuyendall with Mrs. I. E. Dey as assistant hostess. There were thirteen members in attendance.

The devotional given by Mrs. O. A. Potter opened the business meeting which was presided over by the new leader, Mrs. E. R. Brown.

During the social hour the retiring leader, Mrs. Kuyendall, was the recipient of a handkerchief shower in appreciation of her faithful service as leader.

Mrs. Heckman Will Be 92 Friday

On Friday, September 10th, Mrs. Ellen Heckman, 1002 South Ohio street, will observe her 92nd birthday. Quite a remarkable person for her age, Mrs. Heckman is very active. Every day she walks for her exercise and, as she calls it, "gads about" considerably, visiting her neighbors.

Celebrating a day ahead of time, Mrs. Heckman attended a 1 o'clock birthday dinner as honor guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Johnson, 820 South Vermont avenue. Members of her immediate family who live in Sedalia were present, including her daughter, Mrs. Emma Sutherland; two granddaughters, Miss Mildred Sutherland and Mrs. Lawrence Heidebreder, Mr. Heidebreder and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson.

HIRTH SAYS LEWIS' "METHODS MENACE"

By The Associated Press. COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 9.—William Hirth, president of the Missouri Farmers Association, asserted today that so far as farmers "and the C. I. O. are concerned, 'east is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet.'"

Hirth's statement was in a letter declining an invitation from Luther M. Slink and secretary of the St. Louis Industrial Council, to address a Labor Day celebration in St. Louis.

Hirth said he believes "in the right of collective bargaining, assuming that the latter forces have not augmented their ranks through fear and intimidation."

"But," he added, "when Mr. (John L.) Lewis implies that our farmers and the C. I. O. should make common cause politically, I want to remind him that from the founding of the republic our farmers have had a deep regard for the rights of private property, and thus in this respect so far as they and the C. I. O. are concerned, 'east is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet.'"

Hirth said he realized both workers and farmers are "entitled to a greater share of the wealth they help to create." But, he added, employees also have their rights.

"In my opinion," he said, "through its sit-down strikes the C. I. O. has flagrantly violated one of the most fundamental of these, the rights of private property."

In the use of such methods, he said, "Lewis has become a menace not only to American industry at a critical time in our country's history, but even more so to the nation's workers who should in their own behalf and that of their children in the days to come be deeply concerned in upholding law and order."

Black and White

Black and white are high in favor again this autumn. Terry Walker is the young woman wearing this striking full-skirted dress with a wide belt of black grosgrain, and a slashed shoulder treatment into which crisp ruffles of white lace are inserted. The white accent proves flattering around the neckline and wrists, and Miss Walker's accessories are black.

Music Gangmen

Love Hungry Soldiers Take Road Back Home

Love-hungry soldiers, hardened by four years of battle, yearning for the touch of a woman's hand, for her tender lips and her smile, eager to escape from the memory of days and nights in the trenches, tread the road back to their homes. It is their story that Erich Maria Remarque penned in his world famous novel, "The Road Back," a sequel to "All Quiet on the Western Front." His tale disclosed to the world no pomp and glory of victory, no glorification of uniform.

"The Road Back" comes to the screen of the Liberty Theatre on Friday for a two day run. The dramatic narrative concerns the experiences of the return soldiers as they try to adjust themselves to peacetime conditions, and to find love and happiness to supplant the hate and misery through which they had struggled.

Muddy, Sallow Broken-Out Skin?

Many Who Never Suspected Cause Now Know How To Happily Clear Up Complexion.

Many persons with pimples, and muddy, unhealthy looking skin go on being miserable when they might easily clear them up in a short time. Oftentimes slowed-down activity on the part of the stomach, bowels, kidneys and liver are at the bottom of these troubles. Food turns sour in stomach and wastes and acids go into the blood. Lazy kidneys and liver fail to clean them out and these poisons are what make your skin break out, grow muddy—your eyes look dull, your breath bad and keep you tired and depressed. Ask your druggist for Tania. Tania is made expressly to help tone up weak, sluggish stomach, bowels, kidneys and liver. It has been used successfully by millions for over 20 years. Get Tania today.

Miss Lewis holds a very responsible position with the government in the audit division of the general accounting office.

Miss Lewis will leave Friday morning for Ft. Worth, Texas, accompanied by her nephew, Jack Lewis and Mrs. W. H. Walton, where she will enter Jack in school at Ft. Worth. They will visit friends in Ardmore, Okla., and Denison, Texas, en route. They expect to return to Sedalia in about a week.

KEEPS BODY OF HUSBAND A YEAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Disclosure that Mrs. Emily Cudas, 65, had lived for nearly a year in the same small apartment with the body of her husband Frank, was made Wednesday.

The macabre discovery resulted from a routine call at the two-room Cudas apartment by Miss Lillian Lorber, an investigator for the old age pension bureau.

Once before, Miss Lorber had been denied permission to see Frank Cudas, who was on the pension rolls, upon Mrs. Cudas' plea that the man was ill.

Wednesday, the agent again was turned back at the door, she reported.

ed, with the explanation of Mrs. Cudas that her husband was "in a coma."

Miss Lorber called police. Discovering the skeleton-like body, covered with an old blanket, officers found also a death certificate, dated October 26, 1935. She had not buried her husband, the police quoted Mrs. Cudas as saying, because "I was waiting for him to get up."

Ousted President Arrives to Find Revolt in His Behalf Had Failed

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Paraguay's ousted President, Col. Rafael Franco, arrived here by plane Wednesday from Argentina, found that a revolt in his behalf had failed, and at once turned back to Argentina to continue exile.

The forces of Dr. Felix Paiva, named provisional president when Franco was ousted last August 13, were in control here and claimed that the interior of the country also was peaceful.

It was not made known whether Franco was ordered to leave, or whether an effort was made to place him under arrest and that he fled.

The revolutionaries, who attempted their coup d'etat yesterday, were jailed, and tonight the government announced that important military and naval men had affirmed their support of the veteran politician Paiva.

The government said the interior was quiet, but gave no details. Buenos Aires dispatches disputed this, Franco's friends in Buenos Aires said they believed the situation still unsettled, that they knew of some fighting continuing in Asuncion and believed censorship was withholding full information. (Franco's friends were inclined to doubt that he actually had landed at Asuncion and thought he probably stopped somewhere in north Argentina.)

HOMEMAKERS OF COUNTY LINE MET

The County Line Homemakers Club met at the club house Thursday with sixteen members and five visitors present. They were Mrs. Glen Nelson and daughter, Martha Lou of Bethany; Misses Lucille Wear, Winona Wear, Hazel Licklider and Mrs. Blake Gillmore and son. The hostesses were Mrs. Jess Fairfax and Mrs. M. Licklider.

After luncheon the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Ruth Zumsteg. The topic for this month was on "Accidents," with Mrs. Licklider as leader. The roll call was "Our Way to Prevent Accidents in Our Homes." There were several good suggestions on how different club members help to prevent fires. Mrs. Zumsteg and Mrs. C. H. Jenkins told about the Rally Day at Syracuse.

Those having birthdays and wedding anniversaries were Mrs. C. H. Jenkins, Mrs. Pearl Atkinson, Mrs. Ruth Zumsteg and Mrs. Goldie Murray.

The club decided not to have their fair which was set for October 9th, but to wait until later. They also decided to have a handkerchief shower and lemonade and cake for Mrs. A. L. Burford who is leaving soon to live with her daughter in Sedalia.

Last Wednesday night, September 1st the club surprised the president, Mrs. Zumsteg, it being her birthday. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be the 7th of October with Mrs. Bettie Henderson and Mrs. Henry Homan as hostesses.

Parcel post packages from many states will be sold for 25c Friday afternoon, 2:00 to 6:00. M. E. church, South. Come!—Adv.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk. Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

ern race course, however, had not yet fallen into their hands.

This would indicate that at mid-day the Japanese lines, driving inland from the Whangpoo river, were unchanged from noon yesterday when they were reported to have reached the race course.

American observers in the Woonung area, where the Japanese north-south and east-west battle lines join to form two sides of a triangle, confirmed reports that the Chinese forces still holding their principal lines against repeated Japanese attacks.

At Lotien, on the western flank of the Japanese front, a fierce Chinese counter-offensive failed to dislodge the Japanese from their positions.

A Chinese army spokesman said today that one lone battalion of the 98th division, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's own, had held Paoshan against repeated Japanese attacks for a week.

Scores Killed in Raids
Scores of Chinese civilians were killed or wounded when Japanese warplanes raided the Nantao and Lungshua districts, south of the international settlement, Nantao is the ancient Chinese city and both sections are thickly populated civilian areas.

A Japanese spokesman described the bombings as "routine" operations.

He warned that if Chinese artillery continued to use Pootung, across the Whangpoo from the international settlement, as a base the Japanese may be forced to land troops there.

There was a brisk engagement at Kiangnan last night when a small detachment of Japanese fought its way to the ruins of the million dollar municipal center. Chinese said the isolated unit was decimated during the night. It had been feared the Japanese might attempt to erect markers on the Chinese government buildings to aid the aim of the gunners aboard the warships in the Whangpoo.

ASK FRANCO SPARE LIVES OF CIVILIANS

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Gen. Francisco Franco today was asked by 26 American and Canadian educators, statesmen and religious leaders to spare the lives of 2,000 captured civilians held in Santander, Spain, and said to be facing execution for remaining loyal to the Madrid government.

Among those signing the message were Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University; Dr. Albert Einstein, the mathematician; Chancellor E. H. Lindley of the University of Kansas; Dr. Mildred M. Afee, president of Wellesley; Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota and James M. Speers of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions.

Coroner S. R. Palmer pronounced the death suicide.

OBITUARIES

Frank L. Berlin

Frank L. Berlin, a former Sedalia, son of Mrs. Augusta Berlin, 322 North Memorial avenue, and the late F. R. Berlin, died Wednesday in St. Louis where he resided at 4623 Stafford avenue. He had been ill for some time.

Mr. Berlin leaves his widow, Mrs. Clara L. Berlin; one son, Robert W. Berlin, St. Louis; his mother, and the following brothers and sisters: Herbert Berlin, Marshall; Mrs. R. M. Fischer, Sedalia; Mrs. A. L. Fischer, Louisville, Ky.; and Mrs. N. L. Nelson, Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Berlin are on a vacation trip and relatives were unable to locate them, but expect to reach them tonight in Memphis, Tenn., where they had planned to spend the night.

Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Fischer, the latter of Louisville, who was visiting in Sedalia, went to St. Louis early this morning to attend the funeral.

Services will be at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from Keiegshausen Mortuary, 4228 South Kingshighway, Interment in Valhalla cemetery.

Phil Sullivan

Phil Sullivan a former well known Sedalian, died at 9 o'clock Wednesday night at a hospital in Los Angeles, Calif., according to a message from his son, Edgar Sullivan, of San Pedro, Calif., to relatives here. Mr. Sullivan, whose home was in San Pedro was taken to a Los Angeles hospital a few days ago and passed away there.

Mr. Sullivan was county assessor of Pettis county from 1908 to 1912. About twenty years ago he moved to California where he had since resided.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Anna Sullivan, San Pedro; four sons, Leo Sullivan, Emmett Sullivan and Beverly Sullivan, Sedalia; Edgar Sullivan, San Pedro, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. James Tolin, Sedalia; two brothers, Eugene Sullivan, Spring Fork and Dan Sullivan, St. Louis, and one sister, Mrs. Sue Niles, Salt Lake City. He also leaves one grand child, Betty Lou Sullivan, Sedalia.

W. D. Bunn

Mrs. G. P. Berthouex, 1608 East Sixth Street, left Tuesday for Pueblo, Colorado, to attend the funeral of her brother, W. D. Bunn, Friday.

Mr. Bunn, a retired trainman, lived in Sedalia about thirty years ago.

Funeral of A. W. Leake

The funeral services for Albert W. Leake, who passed away at the Bothwell hospital Tuesday night, were conducted at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel at 10 o'clock this morning with the Rev. Richard Park, rector of the Calvary Episcopal church, and the Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating.

Interment was in Crown Hill cemetery.

Louis W. Glenn

Word has been received in Sedalia of the death of Louis W. Glenn, a former Sedalian, which occurred at his home in Peoria, Ill., on August 30. Mr. Glenn left Sedalia many years ago.

He was the son of the late Hugh S. and Ellen Glenn of the Beaman vicinity where he was born.

Surviving is his widow Mrs. Rachel Glenn and one son, George Glenn of Peoria. He is survived by an aunt, Mrs. Anna Cavender of 107 East Eleventh street, who attended the funeral, also by a brother, O. H. Glenn and a sister, Mrs. George Pea of Peoria.

Funeral services and interment was held in Peoria.

P.-T. COUNCIL IN PLAN FOR ACTIVITIES

Projects and committee activities of the Parent-Teacher Association was the subject of a very interesting and instructive meeting held by the Sedalia Parent-Teacher Council at the Public Library, Wednesday, September 8. The president, Mrs. William Reed, presided.

The Devotional—Resolve for Every Morning, was given by Mrs. Glenn Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Paul Dowdy, program chairman, presented the following committee chairmen, who most ably discussed the following subjects which were of much value to the newly appointed chairmen.

Programs—Mrs. C. E. Van Horn.

Publicity—Miss Mamie McCormick.

Membership—Mrs. J. W. Leftwich.

Finance—Mrs. J. L. Curry.

Publications—Mrs. L. R. Butcher.

Study Group—Mrs. M. E. Green.

Motion Pictures—Mrs. R. W. Crouch.

Plans were discussed to arrange a Parent-Teacher book shelf at the Public Library.

At the end of the school year, prizes will be given the school having the largest attendance at the Council meetings for the year, also the school presenting the best Publicity Scrapbook for the year.

Washington and Broadway schools tied for attendance each having six members present.

MOTHER OF FIVE SERIOUSLY BURNED IN JAIL

DENISON, Tex., Sept. 9.—(AP)—A 39-year-old mother of five, listed by police as Mrs. Ruth Lower of St. Louis, was burned seriously in her jail cell today when she set fire to her clothes lighting a cigarette.

Hospital attendants said she might die. Police reported the woman was arrested for intoxication.

from splitting into Fascist and democratic camps, adding:

"It is useless to say the world is not divided into blocs of national Socialism and Bolshevism."

Says Democracy Hopeless
He predicted destruction of all democratic states with the concurrently increasing power of national Socialism which he termed "a blessing for Germany, Europe and the whole world."

He asserted that democracy stands today "just as inwardly hopeless in the face of Bolshevism as the once Holy Alliance stood in the face of democratic revolution and national Socialism" is the protector not only of the greatness of German history but also of Europe.

Building for "eternity," Nazis today laid the cornerstone for one of the world's largest stadia, to seat 240,000, a unit of the party ground development scheduled to be completed by 1943. The stadium will be the site of athletic contests which the Nazis call "defense sports."

The first of such games were staged today.

Adolf Hitler rallied his uniformed legions today to watch him lay the cornerstone.

All the regimented units of the new Germany—even 3,000 of the Reichwehr—were represented at this point of the Nazi congress. Blackshirts, brownshirts, greenish-brown, khaki, field grey and blue, were there.

A twelve gun salute boomed while Hitler symbolically sealed documents in the hollow cornerstone. He tapped the stone with a hammer then—brought cautiously, for the last time he laid a cornerstone he banged so hard that he broke his hammer.

Again der fuhrer was without smiles. His stride was long and deliberate and his heels slapped hard on the plank walk laid across the field for his entry.

Calls Report "Great Joke"

ANDOVER, N. J., Sept. 9.—(AP)—The director of the German American Bund's Camp Nordland today called the assertion that American Nazis were preparing to seize control of the United States "the greatest joke in history."

"Such a statement is without sense, nothing but a big lie, and a lot of hokey," declared August Klapproth, head of the oft criticized camp for girls and boys in the Sussex county hills.

Borah Favors Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Senator Borah (R-Ida) said today congress should investigate the extent of Nazi activity in the United States. He made the statement in commenting on a Chicago newspaper article which said that German-American bund leaders were organizing American citizens.

"There isn't any doubt of the fact that such organization is going on in this country, but to what extent I do not know," the Idahoan said.

"However, it is sufficiently important to call for an investigation."

FORM PLANS TO REGISTER JOBLESS

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—President Roosevelt today asked John D. Biggers of Toledo, Ohio, to take charge of the unemployed registration authorized by congress. Biggers said he would give his answer in Washington next Wednesday.

At the same time it was understood that preliminary consideration was being given by the President to utilizing local election and postal machinery to make the count, which will be kept on a voluntary basis.

Under the tentative plan the President may stir interest before the registration by a public radio address, with the registration set for a single day.

Registrants would be assisted in filling out simplified questionnaires at regular polling places. To guard against misrepresentation they would be required to make answers under oath.

They would be given a card showing they had registered. If successful, the count may be repeated every six months.

Biggers is president of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company. He is a native of St. Louis.

It is understood the questions to be asked will be so worded as to ascertain not only the unemployed, but those temporarily employed those on work relief, and those employed but not under social security—the whole to give as complete a picture of the jobless and employment situations as possible.

ADMITS SLAYING OF PATROLMAN

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9.—Clyde Wagner, 23-year-old paroled Illinois convict, was arrested today by three St. Louis officers who said he confessed the slaying of Patrolman Adis Miller in Alton, Ill., July 22.

Wagner, driving an automobile which had been reported stolen, was taken to the curb by Motoristic Patrolman Roland Farnsworth and Special Officers Cyrus Calloway and Edward Lange. He surrendered without resistance.

At police headquarters, Wagner admitted his identity, the officers said, and made an oral statement that he shot and killed Miller after the patrolman had arrested him on suspicion.

Italy Not Confer In Conference On "Anti-Piracy"

blow to British and French hopes for a peaceful solution of the crisis which grew out of the Spanish civil war.

It was a slap at Soviet Russia. Moscow had accused Italy of torpedoing two Soviet freighters in the eastern Mediterranean. The charge threatened a diplomatic breach between Russia and Italy.

But, regardless of this, British officialdom declared:

"We want action and we mean to get it."

Both British and French said the Mediterranean piracy question was removed from the hands of the Spanish civil war non-intervention committee just to get this action.

The Italo-German proposal was described as "completely unacceptable" to France and Britain.

The British repeatedly have emphasized that the "piracy" issue is of world wide importance and outside the scope of the non-intervention committee.

With Italy and Germany absent from the Swiss conference, there was a suggestion the British might scrap a plan of "restricted zones" for submarines in the Mediterranean.

Scheme By Experts

British naval experts had devised a scheme whereby all participating nations would agree to keep their submarines within defended zones. Undersea vessels found outside those areas would have been subject to attack by neutral warships.

The plan probably will be scuttled, it was said, because Britain would not want to sink Italian submarines found outside zones which Italy herself had not helped define.

As an alternative, a patrol and convoy system has been suggested. Yugoslavia accepted an invitation to attend tomorrow's parley, bringing the total of acceptances to nine. Twelve powers had been included in the original conference plan.

Because of refusal of Italy and Germany to take part in the parley it was expected the conference site would be shifted from Nyon, Switzerland, to Geneva.

Diplomatic quarters in London voiced this reaction to the Italo-German stand:

Italy is laying herself open to a charge that she is indifferent to Mediterranean piracy.

"The Italian refusal violates Italy's own interest if British and French take action without her—as they maintain they will."

"The squabble between Moscow and Rome was not a strong enough reason for Italy and Germany to boycott a conference at which political questions were to be handled."

Today the "pirate" submarines which repeatedly have attacked neutral shipping in the Mediterranean apparently were inactive.

The French navy ministry order holding the fifth destroyer division ready to sail at a moment's notice was a precautionary step.

Although Britain was determined to end the piracy, of which she had been a principal victim, her delegates were understood to have been instructed to do nothing at tomorrow's gathering to divide Mediterranean countries into Fascist and anti-Fascist blocs.

Political fireworks, it was expected, would be avoided but the British public as well as the government awaited concrete results—and end to the naval outrages against vessels flying the Union Jack.

The Liberal London News Chronicle asserted if Italy failed to attend the meeting "she brands herself, as all well-informed persons have long branded her—with the name of pirate."

French anger over the shooting down of a commercial plane of the Air Pyrenees Company, reported as the work of a Spanish insurgent air squadron Tuesday over Bilzon, Spain, threatened fresh complications for the present maze.

The pilot, Able Guidez, was killed. La Populaire, former Premier Leon Blum's newspaper, called him "one of the noblest and most heroic figures of popular aviation" and charged Fascist spies in France had given insurgents the tip-off that led to the machine gun attacks.

Rumors—totally without confirmation—buzzed to and fro, among them one to the effect that Italo-Russian diplomatic relations would be severed or trade boycotts applied between the Fascist and Communist powers as the result of the repeated Soviet accusations.

If Germany and Italy remain aloof, the talks to which Britain had named a strong delegation were expected to be confined largely to technical—and thus far secret—Franco-British naval plans to restore order to the Mediterranean.

Soviet Union Objects

MOSCOW, Sept. 9.—Official Soviet circles voiced strong objection today to the Italo-German suggestion that the problem of Mediterranean piracy be put up to the 27-nation Spanish non-intervention committee.

"That long-suffering body has been the arena for sabotage activity of the Italo-German Fascist aggressors," one source asserted.

The Soviet union still was awaiting their explanation of why Germany was invited among 10 other powers.

Russia's acceptance of the conference called asked that question of France and Britain, arguing that Germany with no Mediterranean coast had no justifiable concern in Mediterranean affairs.

(It was said in London that naval attacks on German warships in the western Mediterranean—the type of incident Britain and France wish to prevent—were among reasons for the invitation to Germany.)

Germany charged Spanish government submarines tried to torpedo the cruiser Leipzig last June. Twenty-three seamen had been killed on the pocket battleship Deutschland in a Spanish government air attack about two weeks before.)

Some Phases Of Third Term Talk For President

inaugurated for a second term, for speculation to begin promptly concerning his successor.

History seems to bear them out.

Voiced One Term Limit
Grant, for instance, was not through with his first term when such talk led to the adoption of a Democratic platform plank favoring, not merely a two term limit, but a one-term limit.

McKinley, who had scarcely begun his second term before his assassination, had already had occasion to still wagging tongues by saying flatly he would not be a candidate for a third term.

Theodore Roosevelt, who finished out the McKinley second term, met the issue immediately after his first election to the presidency, by saying:

"On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and a half years and this three and a half years constitutes my first term. The wise custom which limits a president to two terms regards the substance of two terms, not the time."

Calvin Coolidge's more recent case is the only one which lends support to the theory that a president who assumes it is too early for Roosevelt third term talk. He had a first term of only 18 months in completing Harding's term. His "second" term was about half gone before he considered the third term talk sufficiently demanding to put out that "I do not choose to run" statement.

Politicians Amazed
The more practical politicians hereabout are not amazed at the earliness of third term talk. They say they expect persons interested in launching candidates to start the talk early. They add, too, that persons opposed to a president twice elected lost no time moving obstacles into the path of his third election.

At the same time, being practical politicians, they say they do not expect Roosevelt to make an early declaration. They put it this way: A president endeavors to hold his administrative strength and his party leadership to the last ditch; he wants no lame duck stigma; he is unwilling to be read out of office before his term has run; he knows he will be handicapped if backers, co-workers and subordinates start giving more than one eye to his probable successor while he is trying to work with them. What can he do, they ask, but avoid commitment?

The incidents which have lately added fuel to third term argumentative fires appear to these practical gentlemen, which would provide a six-year term and ineligibility for re-election is similar to one Jefferson hoped would be made eventually; it might have come to any congress as well as to this one.

Roosevelt's talk at the March 4 victory dinner about things he'd like to turn over to his successor did not, to them, preclude his being his own successor. Pennsylvania Governor Earle's efforts to launch a third term boom for Roosevelt, they explain away in the light of too much and too early mention of Earle himself as presidential timber.

And the trotting out of various other horses, dark and otherwise, for inspection, they take as a matter of course. They say they believe, with or without these things, there would be third term talk now.

GUILTY PLEAS IN ACCIDENT RACKET

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A fake accident racket investigation resulted today in guilty pleas and jail sentences for two women and two men.

William J. Gilwee, assistant county prosecutor, said earlier belief that physicians unaffiliated and that the matter would not be taken before the county grand jury as previously planned.

Pleas of guilty to conspiracy to defraud brought the following circuit court sentences: Paul V. Edwards, 42, a year; Mrs. Eunice Wyre, 42, 30 days; Robert Thomas, 34, 45, and Mrs. Kathryn Thomas, 34, six months each. All were of Kansas City.

NO AUTHORITY TO NEGOTIATE WAGES

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 9.—Postmaster General James A. Farley told the National Association of Letter Carriers here last night that his department had "no authority to negotiate wage scales, hours and other things that are fixed by law."

The association seeks shorter hours and pensions for widows.

Farley said he made recommendations to the President and congress "upon the facts as we know them."

Accompanied by Senator Bennett Champ Clark and other Democratic leaders, Farley made brief handshaking stops at Mexico, Moberly and

CONTEMPT CHARGES ON "TRADING MATES"

By The Associated Press.
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Sept. 9.—An exchange of mates through divorces and quick remarriages brought two Robstown, Texas, couples before Judge Cullen W. Briggs today on contempt of court charges.

The principals were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fahrenthold and Mr. and Mrs. James E. Mayes. Divorce cases were heard Tuesday. Mayes and Mrs. Fahrenthold were issued a marriage license and were married a few minutes later. Mrs. Mayes and Fahrenthold were issued a license later in the day. Judge Briggs, before whom the uncontested divorce cases were heard, said the decrees had not been signed by him and would be set aside if collusion could be shown.

COURT RULES IN REPLEVIN SUIT

Principals in the replevin suit brought by the Union Finance Company, a corporation, against Marion and Inez Woodworth, doing business as the Woodworth Motor Company, and E. W. Thompson, doing business as the Thompson Chevrolet Company, agreed, according to a stipulation filed in circuit court today, to waive a jury trial. The matter was taken up before the court and decision rendered that the plaintiff company is entitled to five sedans, valued at $3,000.

Seth Lacey, of Kansas City represented the plaintiff, Fred Wesner, Frank Hayes and Fred Ross were attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Woodworth, and E. W. Jones for Mr. Thompson.

Will Make Trip Through East

Miss Rosemary Burrows, Fourth street and Grand avenue, left this afternoon for St. Louis where she will join friends for an automobile trip to Canada and the eastern states. She was accompanied by St. Louis by her brother, Evans B. Burrows.

BE REIMBURSED ON ACTUAL EXPENSES

By The Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 9.—State Auditor Forrest Smith held today that members of the recently-appointed world's fair commission will be reimbursed for "actual expenses" instead of being advanced a lump sum for paying costs incurred in performing their duties.

This was disclosed when Smith said he turned down a request for $10,000 to pay expenses of a committee to go to New York City Monday to select a site for the Missouri exhibits, and for other preliminary costs.

Under the law Smith said, the commission members will have to turn in receipts like other state officials and employees do, and will be reimbursed for the actual expenses incurred.

Smith explained he thought it might have been a "good thing" to advance funds for expenses, but was not able to do it under the law.

Those named to make the trip to New York to select the site are States Senators Albert M. Clark of Richmond and Michael Kinney of St. Louis; State Representatives C. E. Still of Kirksville and Robert M.

JUDGMENT GIVEN TO PLAINTIFF IN SUIT

The attachment suit brought by the Union Savings Bank against Marion Woodworth and Inez Woodworth Motor Company, was heard by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman in circuit court this morning.

Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff on the first count for $5,337.86 and $533.78 attorney fees; on the second count $2,323.64 and $282.36 attorney fees, and on the third count $1,324.71, making a grand total of $9,802.35, less $4,561.56 already satisfied by sale of garage equipment, leaving a balance judgment of $5,240.79.

Montgomery and Salvator represented the bank; Fred Wesner, Frank Hayes and Fred Ross were attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Woodworth.

Was Granted Divorce
Mrs. Jewell Marie Van Dusen was granted a divorce in the circuit

GIRL OF TWELVE IS THE MOTHER OF DAUGHTER

By The Associated Press.
WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Twelve-year-old Mrs. Leona E. R. Backus is the mother of a daughter. The girl, married last January, gave birth to the baby Sunday at the state institution for women where she was committed last spring by Judge Harold F. Porter.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roshia, announced the birth.

Centennial Pageant Given

CHARLESTON, Mo., Sept. 9.—(P)—Charleston took the city back to day from the Indians to whom they "gave" it last night for the city's centennial pageant and watermelon festival.

A band concert and repetition of the pageant tonight and tomorrow will conclude the affair.

Killed By Car On Birthday

ARTHUR, Mo., Sept. 9.—(P)—Ivan Miller was walking along highway 71 to his ninth birthday party at his home yesterday when he was struck

KILLS SELF WITH GUN KEPT AS FAMILY HEIRLOOM

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 9.—(P)—Miss Freda Neidermeyer, 58, was found dead last night with a 75-year-old ivory-handled revolver, a family heirloom, beside her. A note saying: "This is the easiest way to go," was found.

SURPRISE VISITS FOR THE SAME DAY

William O. Owen, a deputy county recorder of Buchanan county, St. Joseph left Sunday for Sedalia to make a surprise visit with his daughter, Mrs. William Hart, 218 West Sixteenth street.

The same day Mrs. Hart left Sedalia on a surprise visit to her father.

Each found the other gone, so Mrs. Hart got in touch with her father and told him to wait at Sedalia until her return. He is now visiting at her home.

YVONNE DIONNE IS "MOTHERLY" QUIN

Miss Yvonne Dionne of Quintupletland seems to be "the little mother" type. She takes great interest in cleaning and straightening up things, and likes to be bossy. She is rather "fussy" about her clothes, wants every bow tied just right and every button in place. Once, while pictures were being taken Yvonne was supposed to listen as Emilie talked baby talk. Yvonne, however, it is said, insisted on doing all the talking herself, and, so there would be no doubt about who "the best man" was, gave Emilie a harmless little slap.

live energy and vitality. And that is just as all three-year-olds who eat Quaker Oats should be. For oatmeal with milk is a fine source of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein and food energy. And, too, oatmeal is a fine source of Vitamin B for bracing up nerves, digestion and appetite when they are in poor condition due to Vitamin B deficiency.

For lots of pep and energy select the right food. And remember that with all the cereals in the world to choose from the Dionne Quins' advisors chose for them Quaker Oats.

Keep Suet In Glass

All housewives know that suet, exposed to the air, becomes unfit for use within a short time; even though in an icebox. The next time you buy suet, melt it in the oven; then pour it into sterilized glass jars. When cold, it is more easily shredded and will keep much longer. Moreover, you will be able to see at a glance through the transparent walls of the handy jar just how much suet you have on hand.

Serve a ready-to-eat cereal for breakfast topped with apple sauce for a change.

Here's that Amazing Bread that's so SUPREMELY TENDER

Mrs. Harry Fulton, Well Known As A Prize-Winning Baker
At The Annual Inlay City Fair, Says:
"Any woman who hasn't tried air-conditioned Taystee Bread has a real treat in store. It's so tender and delicious, you'd think it was home-made."
Mrs. Harry Fulton Inlay City, Michigan

Because... IT'S BAKED IN AIR-CONDITIONED OVENS

See For Yourself How Much More Like Home-Made Bread It Tastes—How Much Longer It Stays Moist And Fresh

HERE'S bread that will give you a new idea of how supremely delicious bread can really be. It is called Taystee Bread—and it is baked in air-conditioned ovens for greater tenderness and marvelous homelike taste. In air-conditioned ovens, the heat is moist instead of dry. This makes a surprising difference in bread for it avoids the parching effect of dry heat. As a result, flavor is sealed in. The bread is more tender—with a doubly tender crust. And it stays fresh longer than bread baked in less modern ways. So if, up to now, you have thought all bread was alike—try Taystee Bread. See how much more delicious and satisfying it is. Ask for it by name at your grocer's. You and your whole family will be glad you did!

THE SCHOOL LUNCH

(By Martha Logan)

Crisp, cool September days mean back-to-school days to the children—to mother they mean the scheduled days of routine and the problem of the children's lunch.

Whether a lunch is packed and carried to school or whether it is served at home it should be planned just as carefully as any other meal. It should supply at least one-third of the food needs of the day. One of the easiest ways to simplify the lunch-planning problem is to think of it as consisting of (1) a substantial sandwich or hot dish, (2) a salad or vegetable, (3) fruit, either fresh or cooked, (4) a sweet, as a cookie, unfrosted cake, or a piece of chocolate, and (5) milk.

To be a real success at preparing school lunches, the menu planner should give considerable thought to the problem, she should use her ingenuity and exercise originality. The mother who realizes the importance of these lunches will lay in a supply of new or different items when she is shopping for groceries. An emergency shelf for the days when one's inventiveness has given out, should contain jars of prepared sandwich fillings, mayonnaise, peanut butter, cheese in jars, relishes, etc.

For a substantial part of the lunch, prepared meats have been a boon to planning. Almost every market carries an assortment of loaves and ready-to-serve items. If these meats are of a well-known brand, these products are prepared in immaculate kitchens from government inspected meats. They are delicately seasoned, cooked according to accurate temperatures, carefully packaged and branded.

Read-to-serve meats give almost unlimited menu variety, alone or in combination with other foods. They may be served hot or cold. It is a simple matter to determine "meat needs" as these items are all meat, there is no bone and no waste. Ready-to-serve meats are economical too, and they save time and labor in preparation. You may feed these products to the children, knowing that they are as delicious as the finest pieces of branded beef, pork, or veal.

This assortment of products includes cooked ham, liver, loaf, or liver, cheese, meat loaf, sandwich meats, tongue, dried beef, pure pork sausage, frankfurts, bologna, and dry sausage.

These meats may be sliced to serve cold or wrapped in wax paper and packed in the school lunch. They make excellent sandwiches, too. The best part of the sandwich is the filling. Following are a few suggestions for a substantial sandwich for the child's lunch:

1. Several thin slices of meat are easier to eat in a sandwich than a thick slice. The addition of lettuce and mayonnaise makes a de luxe sandwich.
2. Mashed liver cheese mixed with grated raw carrot and a little lemon juice.
3. Ground tongue mixed with celery, pickle relish, and mayonnaise.
4. Sliced ham spread with grated cheese to which mayonnaise has been added.
5. Ground dry sausage mixed with

Martha Logan Says - - - Braised Stuffed Beef Heart

With cooler weather, planning of meals opens up wider horizons. There is little excuse for a repetition of meats if one only looks around to take stock of the display case at the meat market.

Today we suggest Braised Stuffed Heart because it makes a delicious braised meat dinner and it is economical, too. For stuffing, a beef heart is the wisest choice because there is a large enough cavity to hold a goodly quantity of dressing.

6. Chopped ham and hard-cooked eggs on graham bread.

7. Eggs scrambled with bits of ham and green pepper if desired.

Braised Stuffed Heart
Heart—beef, veal, lamb, or pork
3 slices bacon
1 cup fine bread crumbs
1 small onion
Salt
Pepper
Flour for dredging
Lard for browning

If using veal, lamb, or pork hearts, allow one per person. Wash hearts and remove any hard parts. Dice bacon and fry until crisp. Combine with bread crumbs. Season with finely minced onion. Fill cavity in hearts with stuffing and sew edges together. Roll in flour and brown quickly in hot lard. Place in a covered casserole. Add a small amount of water to pan in which hearts were browned. Heat and pour over meat. Cover and bake slowly in a moderate oven (350° F.) until the hearts are done, about 2 hours. Thicken the liquid for gravy.

10. Hot sandwiches of pork sausage or frankfurts served with a crisp salad.

The child's lunch to be interesting and appetizing in appearance should include foods varying in shape, color, flavor and texture. Seasonal meals are always more economical. So it is that in questions of how to build a good lunch for the children and grown-ups too, ready-to-serve meats give the correct answer. They have variety, and are seasonal, economical, and versatile.

MORTON'S NEW MARKET HAS SPLENDID OPENING

The new Morton's Market, which staged its formal opening during the past week in its new location on the northwest corner of Main and Ohio streets, reports a most satisfactory opening week, while the owner, Mr. R. C. Morton says he is grateful to the many customers whose patronage remained with him during the time of moving and remodeling from his former location.

The new store is modern and up-to-date with sanitary equipment in every department of the store. The same service and policy of business is being carried on.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

FISH fillets will be a good selection this week for those wishing to balance budgets after week-end extravagance. Even people who don't like fish because of bones enjoy boneless fillets. Eggs and cheese also make inexpensive and appetizing main lunch and dinner dishes. Lamb, pork and fowl represent the best meat values. Peaches, pears, apples and grapes are abundant. Honeydew melons and huckleberries are the chief members of the melon and berry families in market.

Abundant supplies of a great variety of vegetables continue to come to market including potatoes and sweet potatoes, broccoli, celery, eggplant, peppers and tomatoes.

Seasonable and reasonable foods make up the following menus.

Low Cost Dinner Spanish Omelet with Sliced Frankfurters
Fried Potatoes	Cole Slaw
Read and Butter
Tapoca Cream with Sliced Peaches	Tea or Coffee
Medium Cost Dinner

COACH FAUROT HAS OVER SCORE OF LETTER MEN

Great Team Is Visioned For Missouri Tigers This Season

FOUR MAJORS OF A YEAR AGO MISSING

Opening To Be at Boulder Against Strong Colorado Team

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 9.—Coach Don Faurot is wearing that smug look of the cat that swallowed the canary these days, and a perusal of his University of Missouri football roster, and a vivid memory of just how good the boys were last year, discloses the reason.

Twenty-two letter men will report for the opening practice tomorrow. Only four major performers on the 1936 eleven will be missing. These facts put the Bengals for the first time in years in a position of big six title contender, and there are more than a few followers of the game who place Missouri in the No. 1 spot.

With the exception of quarterback, where the versatile Jack Frye left a gap not easily filled, Faurot has capable performers in layers at every position, so opponents won't be playing one Missouri eleven, they'll be playing three or four. The heaviest losses are in the backfield. Faurot still is hunting a successor for Frye. At Longbe, 1936 captain, will be missed, as will Phil Gasparac, sophomore blocking back last fall. Gasparac was declared ineligible in June.

Carmel Henderson, the other major loss, can be adequately replaced as good wingmen are falling over themselves trying to win the post.

Vernon (Pete) Ewing, Kirksville, Mo., veteran, appears the most likely selection for quarterback. Harry Mason, St. Louis, and Stan Mondala, Chicago, provide Faurot with two letter men at fullback.

Henry Mahley, Kansas City, and Don Johnson, St. Joseph, will furnish speed and experience in the backfield. Johnson was ineligible last fall but lettered in 1935. Other backfield letter winners: Jack Duncan, Cherokee, Kas.; Jack Kinnison, Coffeyville, Kas.; and Arthur Murray, St. Joseph.

Veterans will be on hand at every position along the forward wall. Four tackle letter winners dwarf 200 pounds. The returning linemen: Huston Betty, Kirkswood, Mo.; center, Capt. Maurice Kirk, Nevada, Mo.; Mike English, Monett, Mo.; and B. D. Simon, Columbia, guards; Frank Heide, St. Louis; Godfred Rau, St. Louis; Sam Thomas, Richmond, Mo.; John Hogan, Wellston, Mo.; and Dale Everly, Warrensburg, Mo. tackles; Clyde Nelson, Granite City, Ill.; Lester Pieper, St. Louis; Walter Boan, St. Louis; Fred Dickenson, Independence, Mo.; and Ray Moss, Hallsville, Mo., ends.

Some Burly Sophomores

Burly sophomores also must be counted upon in an estimate of Missouri's outlook, and these comparative novices threaten to make some of the veterans hustle for positions. Faurot's substitution system largely is responsible for the fine array of experienced performers. His first two years at the Tiger helm he used as many men as possible, and now he is ready to cash in on that plan.

Despite the favorable outlook, Faurot is making no rash predictions. He frankly fears Nebraska and Oklahoma, and has great respect for the other Big Six teams.

"We'll have a good team," is as far as he will go in boosting the hopes of title-starved Missouri followers. These followers, however, vision a great team, and they point to the fact that Faurot scheduled Kansas Thanksgiving Day and the University of California at Los Angeles the following Saturday as an indication he knows his team will be plenty tough.

Last year Missouri finished in second place in the Big Six with three victories, a tie and a defeat, the latter coming at the hands of Nebraska. The Tigers also won three non-conference games and lost one. This year they face a rugged schedule without a so-called breather in it. They open Oct. 2 against Colorado at Boulder and Colorado this year is reputed to have what it takes. Michigan State, victor over the Bengals last year, will be met again at St. Louis U., Washington U., and U. C. L. A., round out a non-conference program tough enough to give any coach the jitters.

Phil Bengston, All-American tackle at Minnesota in 1934, will again assist Faurot in coaching the line. Chauncey Simpson, aided by Steve Toth, Northwestern University fullback in 1936, will work with the backfield. The "B" team, for which a six-game schedule has been arranged, will be coached by Herbert Funker, former M. U. athlete and a newcomer to the coaching staff. He has been at Culver-Stockton college, Canton, Mo., for the past nine years. There is no doubt that Missouri will be good. Just how good is the major question, and only time will answer that, Faurot won't.

The Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Anybody who can kick is welcome to try out in the North Carolina State backfield. One Chicago paper called last week's all-star tilt a "football game." Pretty slick. The boys say Johnny Marcum of the Red Sox is the laziest guy in the American league. He won't even tote a bat from the dug-out, but uses the one the batter ahead of him dropped at the plate.

In a track meet in Japan yesterday, the half mile was won by Uh with Oh, third. Am was an also ran. Ernie Lombardi of the Reds hasn't made a sacrifice hit in four seasons. Clemson's footballers will travel 5,000 miles to and from the wars this year. Texas University and Nebraska are negotiating a football game and home series to start in 1940. The Huskers are tied up that far ahead. Max Schmeling's first tune-up bout for Joe Louis will be against Walter Neusel in Berlin this winter.

Two challengers—Pedro Montanez and Fred Apostoli—will be favorites over titleholders in Mike Jacobs' big carnival of champions, Sept. 23. The guy who broke the Tuna fish catching record up in Nova Scotia the other day has only one arm. Arthur Rooney, nephew of the fellow who has been giving the bookies headaches, is a backfield candidate down at North Carolina State. Harry Gumbert, Giant pitcher, lives only a few miles from Pittsburgh, but never saw Forbes Field until he went there with the Jints.

Your old pal, Slip Madigan, St. Mary's coach, can't see how he'll miss this year. The day practice opened, Slip played a little poker in the equipment room while the athletes were dressing. He made a one-card draw to a royal flush and connected. Slip held the ace, king, jack and ten of hearts and caught the queen of hearts on the draw. Most fighters tobood alcohol while training, but Marcel Thiel, the French middleweight, takes a glass of wine with his lunch and another with his dinner.

DIZZY DEAN IN A PLEA FOR RIGHT TO TRADE SELF

Branch Rickey Suggests Pitching Ace Should Lay Off Year

"DIZ" SAYS AILMENT IS ONLY TEMPORARY

Although Defeated 4 to 0 Wednesday Held Cubs To Five Hits

By SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals looked very much today as if they were sharpening up a knife for the purpose of cutting off their collective nose to spite their equally collective face.

If they were really serious about suggesting a year's retirement for Dizzy Dean and were not just talking to throw a scare into baseball's No. 1 blower-off, it would seem they'd be doing themselves more harm than good by shelving the greatest pitching arm in the game for that length of time, despite his eccentricities.

The row started by Branch Rickey with the retirement suggestion, and followed up by Dean's plaintive plea for permission to trade himself, took the stage away from anything in the big time today. Playing second fiddle to the Rickey-Dean brasses were such other developments as the re-appointment of "Boiling Boily" Grimes as chief umpire baiter and manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers; the continuation of the Giants' 2½-game lead in the National League race; the widening of the Yankees' American League edge to 12 full games, and the rise of Pittsburgh to third place in the National League and Cleveland to fourth in the American.

The Cards may have their reasons for talking about packing Dizzy's arm—as well as his ability to talk it out with anyone in the game—in mothballs for a year. These would include, of course, the fact that such a move would, as Rickey described it, "act as a tonic and build up his baseball morale as well as his arm."

Big Drawing Card

But on the other hand Dizzy has given no evidence that his pitching warrants a year's retirement—and when he's right, he's somewhat better than a green hand at fogging 'em in. His ailments of the moment, he contends, are at worst only temporary. He's still one of the game's big drawing cards, as well as a piece of ivory that could return a tidy sum on the open market.

He certainly didn't look ready for a wheelchair yesterday as he pitched a five-hitter against the Cubs, although he lost, 4-0, largely because of the clouting of Gabby Hartnett.

The victory for the Cubs enabled them to stay within shouting distance of the Giants, who had their hands full before pulling out at 9-7 decision over their best-loved "haters," the Dodgers. A short while later, the Brooklyn management announced the signing of Grimes at a reported substantial salary increase.

Dean Wants To Finish It

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Branch Rickey started it—now Jerome Herman Dean wants to finish it. And when he refers to his connections with Messrs. Bredon and Rickey's Gas House Gang.

A suggestion here last night by the Cardinals' general manager that Old Diz take a year off "as a tonic" and "build up his baseball morale" temporarily nonplussed Dean when he heard about it in Chicago.

"If that's the way they feel about me it would be better if they let me go," he countered. "I think three or four clubs could use me."

"I may not be going so good now but I'll be O. K. by next season and I can't see any reason for layin' off a year."

Rickey said he made the suggestion in view of the big right-hander's record for the season. Diz dropped No. 10 to the Cubs yesterday after a lay-off since August 26 because of his ailing flipper. He has won 13 games.

Diz was more voluble than his boss but showed unusual restraint in commenting on Rickey's opinion that voluntary retirement would be "the best thing that could happen to Dizzy" his description of the eccentric hurler as "not just a player—a big shot" and the added "he's not in the market; there's no market for him."

"All the time for the last seven years when I was winning games and winning world series, I was a great guy and everything was okay. Now, when I ain't goin' so good, everything's wrong with me."

Blame On Broken Toe

Dean blamed his poor record recently on that left big toe broken in the all-star game. He described his 1 to 0 victory at Cincinnati July 4 as "one of the best games I ever pitched" adding "I was on the way to my best season."

"Two days later my left toe was broke. Then days later I was requested to report to the club at Boston, which I did.

"Frisch (Manager Frank Frisch) asked me if I could pitch when I showed up. I did.

"I gave him a pretty good game but lost 2 to 1. The toe was not healed and I couldn't pivot for my follow through and I hurt my arm favoring my toe."

Concerning his 4 to 0 loss to the Cubs yesterday, Dizzy said he "never should have been in there," though Rickey credited him with "a good game."

"My arm felt terrible," Diz insisted.

This season has been Dizzy's worst since a sensational entry into the big league picture in 1932, but he has easily copped the "bad boy" honors for the year.

As the 1936 season closed, Dizzy lost no time in announcing himself the No. 1 holdout of 1937. He finally signed for a reputed $25,000—the highest paid a big league hurler.

Then followed a series of incidents. First were the May 19 balk in a game with the Giants that ended in a general melee and Dean's "sit-down" strike May 23 when Umpire Beans Reardon gave Jimmy Wilson, Phillies manager, an extra ball because Diz took so much time pitching.

A few days later Diz was quoted at Belleville, Ill., as calling Umpire George Barr, who made the balk ruling, and President Ford Frick of the National League "the two biggest crooks in baseball."

On June 2 Frick suspended Dean indefinitely and demanded a written apology. Dean denied the story and stood by his declaration he'd "sign nothing" for nobody. He won the battle of words with Frick and was reinstated June 4.

GIANTS DEFEAT ALL-STARS 14 TO 7

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Thanks to the New York Giants' 14 to 7 victory over the eastern all-star college eleven, professional football today had regained some of the prestige lost in recent encounters with star-studded college outfits.

The Giants made it two in a row over the collegians in a game played at the Polo Grounds last night for the benefit of the Herald-Tribune fresh air fund, but had several uncomfortable moments.

The game ended just after Mickey

Kobrosky of Trinity had passed the collegians 78 yards to the Giants' two-yard marker. Needing only one yard for a first down or two for a touchdown, the collegians were confronted by a stonewall that held battering Stu Smith to the line of scrimmage, and 38,000 fans went home, singing the praises of the team put together in three weeks by wily Andy Kerr of Colgate.

Each side made ten first downs. The collegians outgained the Giants 128 yards to 41 by passes but were outrushed 97 yards to 52.

The most widely heralded of the all-stars, Yale's Larry Kelley and Army's Monk Meyer, yielded the playing honors to two small-college heroes, Kobrosky, the passing ace of the game, and Smith, sensational defensive back from Bucknell. Kelley didn't perform his pass-catching specialty once and got the equivalent of a Bronx cheer when he missed one easy-looking chance.

MARBLE LOSES TENNIS MATCH

Defending Champion Out-Ed by Dorothy Bundy—Riggs Defeats Hare

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 9.—(AP)—The combined men's and women's national singles championships which had promised in advance to furnish all the glamor, glitter and excitement of a three-ring circus, finally lived up to that promise Wednesday.

The service ace that gave Bobby Riggs a five-set victory over Charles Edgar Hare of England and a chance to meet Germany's top-ranking foreigner, Baron Gottfried von Cramm, in the semi-finals brought to a close a brilliant four-match program.

Some 8,000 spectators saw, successively, defending champion Alice Marble blasted out of the tournament, 1-6, 6-1, by Dorothy May Bundy, "personality girl" from Santa Monica, Calif.; von Cramm carried to five sets by Bryan (Bitty) Grant of Atlanta, Ga., before winning at 9-7, 2-6, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3; Anita Lizana of Chile stroke her way to a 6-1, 6-1 rout of Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, of Austin, Tex., and the 19-year-old Riggs of Los Angeles win out at 4-6, 1-6, 6-3, 6-0, 7-5 over Hare.

The triumph of Miss Bundy was the major development of the day on the basis of results.

HUNDREDS TO TRY FOR BIG TEAMS

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Public relations directors of the Big Ten and Notre Dame will give the 1937 football season to the athletes tomorrow. The public relations boys have been telling the world for a month how tough things are going to be at their institutions this season. Tomorrow, close to 600 aspirants for regular jobs on varsity teams will go to work in the first practice session of the campaign.

In eight Big Ten camps and at Notre Dame, the aim will be to start something capable of causing trouble for Northwestern, the 1936 conference champion, and Minnesota's Gophers, whose great victory string was snapped by the Wildcats. Notre Dame where Elmer Layden will start with 85 selected candidates, meets both of the Big Ten favorites, facing the mighty men of Minnesota at Minneapolis October 30, and tackling Northwestern Nov. 20.

Early figures indicate Minnesota should regain the conference title, with Northwestern making a rousing bid to retain it. Coach Bernie Bierman's sixth Gopher production figures to be another one of those powerhouses, in spite of the loss of Ed Widseth, Bud Wilkinson and Julie Alfonso, first rank stars.

At Northwestern Coach Lynn Waldorf, embarking on his third season, will build around such stars as Don Heap, Fred Vanzo, Bernard Jefferson and Bob Swisher, and has among his 74 invited candidates, the makings of a sturdy line.

TRUSTEE'S SALE

Whereas, J. E. Kirkpatrick and Margaret E. Kirkpatrick, his wife, by their deed of trust dated February 1, 1935, filed in the office of Recorder of Deeds of Pettis County, Missouri, at Sedalia, as trustee, for the purpose of securing the indebtedness mentioned in said deed of trust, the following described real estate situate in Pettis County, Missouri, to-wit:

The West Half of Lot One and Two (1-2) of the Northwest Fractional Quarter of Section One (1), Township Forty-Six (46), Range Twenty-Three (23) West, containing Ninety-One and One Third (91 1/3) acres, more or less.

And whereas, said deed of trust provides that in case the trustee herein named, by reason of resignation or disability shall fail to perform said trust as therein provided, then the legal holder of the note secured thereby shall have the power to substitute any other person as trustee, and that the party so substituted shall have the same powers as the trustee named therein and that the acts of said substituted trustee shall be as effectual and binding upon all parties as if performed by the trustee named therein.

And whereas, the Kansas City Finance Company, the trustee, named in said deed of trust, is unable to perform the duties of trustee as mentioned therein and has heretofore resigned as trustee in said deed of trust.

And whereas, the legal owner and holder of said note and deed of trust has heretofore appointed Oscar Bangert, as trustee in the place and stead of said Kansas City Finance Company and thereby invested said substituted trustee with all the powers conferred by said deed of trust upon the trustee therein named and said substituted trustee has accepted said trust.

And whereas, said note and deed of trust provide that in event default be made in the payment of either principal or interest or any part thereof, or upon default in payment of taxes, or the observance of any conditions of said deed of trust, that the whole of the principal and interest of said note should, at the option of the holder of said note, become due and payable without notice.

And whereas, default has been made in the payment of the regular semi-annual installment of principal and interest on said note due March 1, 1937 upon said indebtedness, as well as all installments that have become due since that date, by reason of which the whole of said indebtedness became due and now remains unpaid.

Now, therefore, the undersigned substituted trustee, at the request of the legal owner and holder of said note and deed of trust, does hereby give notice that he will, on Friday, the 1st day of October, A. D. 1937, between the hours of nine o'clock A. M. and five o'clock P. M., at the west front door of the Pettis County Court House at Sedalia, Missouri, sell the above described land at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, for the purpose of discharging the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust, the interest due thereon, and the costs of executing this trust.

Said sale to be made subject to any unpaid taxes.

LOWER PRICES ON WHEAT MARKET
CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Lower prices on wheat formed the rule today. The Russian grain selling agency in Rotterdam was reported to have reopened, a circumstance construed in some quarters as pointing to sharp Russian competition with other countries. Black Sea shipments of wheat this week totaled 2,824,000 bushels, against 1,544,000 bushels last week.

At the close, wheat was ½ cent up over yesterday's finish, Sept. $1.07½ to $1.07½. Dec. $

Wrong Sport, Parson!
A newly rich man was a poor golfer and very ignorant, as well. One day he was playing a round with a bishop and had a real off-day. After every fizzle he would indulge in a hearty burst of profanity. The bishop, shocked, admonished him. "If you don't respect me, sir, you should at least respect the cloth."
"Cloth, nothing!" snarled the other. "We ain't playing billiards!"

Sedalia

A SEDALIA INSTITUTION

The Hotel Bothwell affords Sedalia's most popular meeting place. The Hotel Bothwell in Sedalia isn't just a hotel for the accommodations of traveling men. Every day, every week, every month, hundreds of Sedalians make use of The Bothwell's better accommodations. Parties ranging from Bridge in the afternoons to banquets at night. Exclusive little family dinners in the air conditioned dining room or a retreat for friends in the evening in The Rendezvous.

Even the younger set enjoy dancing nightly at The Bothwell.

Yes, The Bothwell is a Sedalia institution. And you, your family and your friends are most cordially invited to take advantage of The Bothwell's accommodations.
